

Young Scientist Summit in Clinical Neuroimmunology

May 7-10, 2024 ● Newport, RI

This program is a one-of-a-kind opportunity for Young Investigators who do not have clinical training and are engaged in multiple sclerosis-related research to better understand how their research impacts patients with MS and become informed about current approaches in the diagnosis and treatment of MS. Networking and mentoring are key components of the Young Scientist Summit!

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Industry Careers & Collaboration Panel - $10,000 per Supporter

This panel will discuss a variety of topics focused on collaborations between industry corporations and academic institutions as well as career opportunities in industry. Other topics may include identification of therapeutic targets/novel agents for development, drug development from preclinical studies to Phase 1-3 trials, and DEI efforts in industry. One representative from up to three separate industry supporting organizations may participate in the panel. Industry panelists may also be invited to attend other programming and/or networking events throughout the Summit. Further instruction will be provided upon confirmation of support. A Young Scientist Summit faculty member will moderate the panel and industry representatives must be approved by ACTRIMS.

Prep Package - $10,000

Build engagement by providing attendees with a "Prep Package" of welcome materials including a notebook featuring the supporter's corporate logo. A custom postcard designed by the Industry Supporter will also be included in each package and may feature corporate recognition.

ADDITIONAL BENEFITS

Corporate logo recognition on the YSS webpage linking to the supporter's corporate website as well as in select Summit promotions.

INDUSTRY ATTENDANCE

Due to the Summit's educational nature, attendance is reserved exclusively for Young Investigators and ACTRIMS leadership unless otherwise specified.

CE

This event is not CE-accredited.

Hotel Room Key & Sleeve - $7,500

All Summit attendees will receive a custom-branded hotel key card and sleeve as they check in under the official ACTRIMS block. Support this item and you will be "in the pocket" of every attendee. Only corporate logos are permitted. The exclusive sponsor may brand the key card; however, the sleeve branding will be jointly shared between ACTRIMS and the supporter.

WiFi - $7,500

Internet access will be available to Summit participants throughout the ACTRIMS meeting space. Opportunities for sponsor recognition include featuring the supporter's corporate logo on the WiFi landing page and/or the option to customize access login credentials such as the username and/or password. Options to be confirmed pending venue capabilities.
